AN ENVIRONMENTAL AND ENERGY LAW PRACTICE

MGKF Summer Testimonials

Kyra Paul-Fowler, Summer 2023

“Attorneys trusted us with client work product, provided thoughtful feedback, and invested in getting to know us.”

Ted Gomes, Summer 2023

“From substantive training to comprehensive writing workshops and meaningful assignments that directly impacted clients, I felt like a valued member of the team.”

Isaiah Kramer, Summer 2021

The firm has done an exceptional job of exposing me (and the other summers) to a host of substantive legal issues that span regulatory, litigation and transactional practices. I think the program is unique in that summers work directly with partners on virtually every assignment and the partners make themselves available as mentors. As someone who did not come into the program with a validated interest in a career in environmental law, the program provided an invaluable survey of the field—which is far more expansive than I think most law students recognize.

Omar Khodor, Summer 2021

A student interested in environmental law would be hard pressed to find the scale and quality of environmental lawyers like at MGKF. Given the firm's far-reaching reputation, I was exposed to complex environmental issues involving many different types of clients. Despite the full schedules of all the employees at MGKF, the entire firm made every effort to connect with summer associates during the pandemic. Short Zoom catchups, longer outdoor lunches, and a comprehensive tour of the Navy Yard allowed the other summer associates and me to connect with firm technical consultants, associate and partners. As a result, I didn't just research and learn about isolated legal questions. Rather, I learned from cradle-to-grave, how an environmental legal issue is resolved.
